Products

When it comes to understanding the special needs of the architect or builder, there is no substitute for experience.

The Homer C. Godfrey Company has the necessary experience and understanding of this industry to offer an unsurpassed level of service. For over 90 years, The Homer C. Godfrey Company has been one of the areas leaders in the field of masonry and related construction supplies.

Aside from offering an extensive line of masonry and construction related materials, we have a staff with expertise in all elements of the business. Our sales people remain at your service long after the materials are delivered. The dispatching and delivery departments are prompt and accommodating. Technical support and special orders are handled with urgent attention. Many suppliers can get you the materials, but only a company with our accumulated knowledge can serve you completely.

In addition to the traditional masonry building materials, we are aware that new high tech approaches to matters of resurfacing, sealing, stucco systems, flashing, water drainage, caulking, geotextiles, edge restraint, graffiti control, and VOC compliance are all part of our ever growing industry. We offer a complete line of such products with trained personnel to assist you in the selection process. If we don't know the answer to your materials related question, we will find it.

Whether choosing just the right brick for your new building or home, deciding how best to pave a sidewalk, or assisting architects and contractors in the selection of these products, The Homer C. Godfrey Company is your best resource.
